KITTY HAWK KITES™

CELEBRATING 50 YEARS OF FLIGHT

In 1973, while reading an issue of the Winston-Salem Journal, I came across a photograph of someone flying a hang glider in Utah. The image immediately reignited in me a passion for flight that was initially sparked when I was a child, building and flying kites on a farm in Missouri. The moment I saw that picture, I couldn't sleep or think about anything else. In 1974, we founded Kitty Hawk Kites with the plan of teaching the world to fly.

Over the last 50 years, Kitty Hawk Kites has grown into the largest hang gliding school in the country. In addition to hang gliding lessons, we offer more than 25 adventures, from surfing and kiteboarding lessons to dolphin and kayak tours. Everybody needs more joy in their life—not only is it exhilarating, but it changes your outlook on life. I am grateful that I found my passion and have been able to share it with people all these years!

We invite you to peruse this Adventure Catalog and find an activity that will bring you joy. For 50 years we have been teaching the world to fly...because if you can fly, you can do anything!

“FOR 50 YEARS WE’VE BEEN DEDICATED TO THE MISSION OF TEACHING THE WORLD TO FLY.”

GET OUTSIDE AND EXPLORE

WRITTEN BY HEATHER FRESE
OUTER BANKS THIS WEEK MAGAZINE

Imagine digging your toes in the same sand the Wright brothers lifted off from in the first powered flight as you fly a colorful kite in the brisk breeze. Or imagine paddling through the calm waters of a brackish soundside canal as you watch an egret lift into the air. Or carving your surfboard into the trough of a wave, sunlight glistening on the ocean – these are just a few of the seemingly endless outdoor opportunities you can experience here on the Outer Banks.

From wind and waves to waterways, wildlife, and the world of culture and history, Kitty Hawk Kites has a way for everyone to get outside and explore all the Outer Banks has to offer. Since its formation in 1974, Kitty Hawk Kites has stood out as the preeminent watersports and adventure company on the Outer Banks. Their curated selection of adventures will get people of all thrill and skill levels outside to play. With 11 locations of retail stores and adventure instruction up and down the Outer Banks, Kitty Hawk Kites opens the door for the whole family to enjoy all these islands have to offer, from sky to sea, sand to land, and everything in between.

One of the hallmarks of the Outer Banks, the defining feature that drew the Wright brothers to the area so many years ago, is its wind. Perched in exactly the right spot to catch air currents coming off the ocean as they stream across the sound to the mainland, the islands of the Outer Banks are a wind-lovers paradise.

THE WORLD IS WILD WITH WONDER ON THE OUTER BANKS. ARCHED DELICATELY INTO THE OCEAN, THIS FRAGILE YET HARDY STRAND OF ISLANDS OFFERS AN OPPORTUNITY TO EXPLORE A MARITIME ENVIRONMENT UNLIKE ANY OTHER.

Hang gliding is a classic wind experience. You can catch the pros doing it at several competitions in the area. This past year featured the 52nd anniversary of the annual Hang Gliding Spectacular, an event that's the longest running hang gliding competition in the world. To experience the thrill of hang gliding yourself, Kitty Hawk Kites has several options. From dune gliding to going 2,000 feet up in a tandem lesson with a certified Kitty Hawk Kites instructor, there's a way for everyone to get up in the air.

Kiting is another fun way to get out in the wind on the Outer Banks. The retail locations of Kitty Hawk Kites have tons of kites to purchase that are great for any age level. Jockey's Ridge is an excellent spot to catch the wind, but kiting is also phenomenal along any of the beaches. Five colorful kite festivals occur throughout the year too. Parasailing will also get you up into the wind with Kitty Hawk Kites. Soar in the air above the Roanoke or Currituck sounds as you enjoy a birds-eye view of the Outer Banks from above.

Catch the wind while also experiencing the water, give kiteboarding a try. Lessons in this sport meet at Kitty Hawk Kites in Rodanthe, where you will learn to harness the power of the wind and glide across the warm waist deep waters of the Pamlico Sound. Shallow water and offshore winds offer a safe play-ground for learning the sport that's suited to new kiteboarders and pros alike.

The waves along the Outer Banks are legendary. With the clashing currents and shifting sandbars, there's usually good surf for lots of different skill levels. From locations in Corolla to Rodanthe, you can take surfing lessons to learn how to ride the waves. Ocean kayaks are also a great way to get in the waves, and Jet Skis, standup paddleboarding and wing foiling are additional ways Kitty Hawk Kites can get you out on the water. There's a whole world of soundside activities that will get you exploring the wildlife and waterways of the Outer Banks.

With fascinating ecology and history, guided kayak tours through the area's marshes and waterways will have you threading through the maritime forest of Alligator River and the Cape Hatteras National Seashore, paddling through the Corolla salt marshes, exploring the Roanoke Island marsh, which sheltered the settlement that would become known as the Lost Colony or adventuring around the waters of Bodie Island. For a larger tour, check out their maritime forest tour. It takes place in Kitty Hawk Woods and is one of their most popular tours.

Dolphin cruises through the Roanoke Sound will get you up close and personal with migratory dolphins. Led by captains who work with the Outer Banks Center for Dolphin Research, these experts know all the spots the dolphins like to play. In the spring and summer, you might even see dolphin babies! The 40-foot pontoon boats can accommodate large groups and depart from locations in Nags Head and Manteo. There's even a guarantee to spot dolphins when you take a tour in the summer months.

On the land side of things, the history and culture of the world of the Outer Banks is full of fascinating stories. What other place has lost colonies, wild ponies who arrived via shipwrecks, beheaded pirates, tumultuous storms and daring rescues at sea? For a glimpse of the world of wild horses, try an open-air horse tour to spy the wild Spanish mustangs that roam the beaches of Corolla. Or gallop along the beach with the wild mustangs' more domesticated kin on a guided horseback tour on Hatteras Island. For an up close and personal peek into the most haunted places on the Outer Banks, join a Kitty Hawk Kites ghost tour. You'll stroll through the streets of Manteo by lantern light as your guide tells spooky tales of pirates and other lost souls.

"VISITORS TO THE OUTER BANKS CAN GET A TASTE OF AVIATION HISTORY BY FLYING A REPLICA OF THE INFLUENTIAL 1902 WRIGHT GLIDER"

WHERE THE WRIGHT BROTHERS LEARNED TO SOAR

Many know the Wright Brothers flew the first powered aircraft on December 17, 1903, in Kitty Hawk, NC. What many may not know is that prior to their iconic first flight, the Wright Brothers experimented with heavier-than-air gliders for several years on the Outer Banks. These experiments were crucial to the development of modern aviation.

The Wrights developed then refined their glider designs with experiments beginning in 1900. By 1902, they had developed their third free-flight glider, and were the first to incorporate yaw control, this being the use of a rear rudder,

After forever changing history, the Wrights continued to refine their glider designs. On October 24, 1911, Orville Wright set a world soaring record of nine minutes and 45 seconds of unpowered flight on the Outer Banks. That record stood until the 1970s, when it was broken by a pilot using a modern hang glider.

Visitors to the Outer Banks can get a taste of aviation history by flying a replica of the influential 1902 Wright Glider, on the soft sand dunes favored by the Wright Brothers themselves.

IS KAYAK FISHING CATCHING ON?

It is undeniable that the sport of kayak fishing is one of the fastest growing outdoor sports today. Countless anglers are ditching the boat — and even their waders — in favor of paddling out in a Hobie fishing kayak.

The steady rise of kayak fishing over the past decade can be explained, in part, by the ease of casting off for a fishing session. No fuel or specialized boat ramp is needed. Fishing kayaks also enable anglers to access fishing grounds that are too tight or shallow for larger boats to reach.

Hobies Mirage Drive pedal system specifically has revolutionized the game in kayak fishing. Utilizing foot propulsion, Hobie Mirage kayaks leave the angler's hands free for steering and fishing, rather than constantly paddling the kayak. Patented "Kick-Up Fins" remove the risk of paddling over logs, kelp, shallows, and rocks. Kayaks equipped with 180 and 360-degree technology can be steered in virtually any direction — including backwards and sideways — so the angler won't lose ground while site casting and reeling in their lines.
